

Gunn Estate

Our Story

The Gunns have worked the land in Hawke's Bay for generations. Winemaker, Denis Gunn, cut his teeth on the family estate vineyards, watching the first vines going in and then working in the vineyards when he left school. He went on to become a highly respected winemaker and for him it has always been about crafting the best of the wine classics, time and time again – nothing over the top, just quality wines that are great to drink.

The passion and determination of three generations is alive and well in the wines today. It's always been about heart and home at Gunn Estate, which is why the wines are so respected. There's a reason good things don't change.

Vinification

Harvested in cool conditions, the grapes were gently processed to optimize fruit expression. To enhance the intense varietal characters, the juice was fermented at low temperatures.
